Voting System Upheld!

Groups C and D once again vote that only groups C and D can vote.

In the recent vote that was proposed by groups A and B, which was held in order to decide if those groups could be allowed to vote, the amazing groups C and D once again decided that they will be the only ones with the right to vote. The vote was 100% of both groups C & D agreeing that they should be the only ones to vote. They are, after all, the most educated ones among us. Some member of groups A & B think that they deserve to be just as educated. What could come of this conflict?

The King is Great!

Long live the King. Seriously, the King is so cool; we are really lucky to have such a great King. Other nations' kings are not nearly as cool as our King. He just seems to do everything right; it just makes sense that he was sent to us from God. Our King could totally beat up England's king. We here at Nation X News support our wonderful, excellent, majestic and divine King 100%, and deny any terrible and false stories that may have been published in our newspaper last week, that expressed the stupid opinion that the King has too much and groups A and B don't have enough. They were all lies! We here at Nation X News have learned our lesson. We love the King! Everybody should love the King! The King is awesome! Long live the King!

NATION X NEEDS TO MAKE SOME CHOICES

We were at war for a really long time. Not that war is bad (long live the King!) but sources from group D have told us that Nation X is on the verge of bankruptcy and owes other countries so much money that it will take years of taxes to pay off. Many families are already struggling to feed their families. Those are mostly the people who can't vote. Is there a way to solve this problem?

Probably the best answer is to just trust the King. Our King is so cool. He really knows best, so if we just trust in him, he will bring us through the hard times. He needs all of his fancy clothes and castles and servants because he is the King!
